

Ph.D. Research Centre in Commerce

In the Subject of

Accountancy

Introduction:

Ph.D. in Accountancy is a comprehensive study of Accountancy exploring the various facets of the field. Candidates are supposed to have an extensive knowledge of the field of commerce, accountancy and the commercial activities related to the area of study. Those having good communication skills, numerical skills and problem-solving ability are considered apt for the program. In addition to having the knowledge of how to handle and audit accounts, an analytical mind is considered to be beneficial for this program.

Program outcome:

Ph.D. in Accountancy curriculum concentrates on imbuing in candidates the overall understanding of the subject using theoretical as well as practical methodology. Students have to go through intensive classroom training as well as practice in the form of projects, case studies, presentations, and discussions. In the final year of the course, candidates are required to generate their thesis surrounding the topic intricate in their field of study.

The course prepares candidates to become proficient in accountancy in order to interpret the issue with finesse. Ph.D. in Accountancy course enables them to choose their career in wide areas including Economic Consulting firms, government and private sectors, Banking Sector, Customs department, Export companies, Indian Economic services and much more. The overall aim of the course is to imbibe in students the intricacies of accountancy and aid them in becoming competent professionals of the field in areas of career chosen by them.

1	Programme Outcome
2	Number of Seats	10
3	Guide Details	1.Dr. Gajanan P. Wader PG/I.C.D./2016-17/1594 Dated 19.09.2016 2.Dr. Monali Ray PG/I.C.D./2018-19/1152 Dated 22.10.2018
4	Number of Students Registered	5
5	Number of Student's Registration is under process	4